The Parents Association in St Aloysius school promotes the interests of our daughters in co-operation with the Board of Management, Principal, Teachers and Students. The main function of the association is to advise the Principal and the Board on matters relating to the school. We also adopt a programme of activities that will promote the involvement of parents in the operation of the school, in consultation with the Principal.

All parents of the girls in the school are members of the parents association. Activities are run by the Parents Association Committee, which is formed at the AGM held in September each year. All parents are welcome to participate in the Parents Association Committee.

St Aloysius has a very long and proud tradition in Cork. The school colours represent Faith, Hope and Charity. While the school has a Catholic ethos, the school is composed of students with different religious faiths and none. We endeavour to be as inclusive as possible. The school motto of "Ad Deum Delectum Juventutis Meae" this translates as 'For God the Delight of my Youth'. This represents the hope that we have for our daughters that they will mature into bright, happy and capable young women.

For the school year 2015-2016 the Parent's committee officers are as follows:

Chairperson	Colette Finn
